

True Colors© Programs for Education

True Colors programs improve schools by educating administrators, teachers, staff, students and parents to recognize their greatest strengths and create unity.

True Colors has been used successfully for over forty years in education, to gain higher levels of self-esteem, academic achievement and improved personal relationships in school and in their families and has contributed to less drop outs and higher attendance.

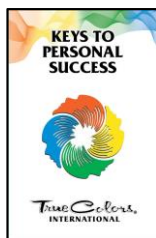

By implementing the True Colors Communication System, and its effective method for students to discover and understand their natural strengths and talents, each individual in the classroom has equal access to his or her highest potential for communication and learning.

As a result of participating in True Colors Programs, dramatic changes have occurred through:

- Blending natural teaching styles of teachers and natural learning styles of students.
- Having a way to increase self-confidence, pride, dignity, respect, and sense of worthiness in every teaching situation.
- Providing the language skills of effective communication.
- Individualizing teaching strategies, lesson plans, and relational skills to better succeed with each student.
- Improving the skills and attitudes of the teacher as advisor, counselor, consultant, and trouble-shooter, so that teachers achieve a greater level of student success.
- Facilitating achievement of common goals by everyone in the education community.
